Letter From the CEO

Winter is over!

Spring is the time of plans, projects and new beginnings, and all of us here at the HHPL have had a blast preparing to return to in-house programming and events.

doesn't actually know how to play the accordion

We will be hosting an Easter egg painting, storytime and egg hunt! The HH Fire Department will be joining us, too, with Sparky the Fire Dog and a fire truck. Everyone is welcome to our Springtime Eggstravaganza!

We're having a plant sale! It's like The Little Shop of Horrors here in the Library and so with the help of some amazing volunteers, as well as donations, we've re-potted all the seedlings and now have more plants than books. Proceeds will go towards children and teen programming.

Music in the Library, kid's programming, teen drop-n and dance classes are just some of what you can expect this Spring at the HHPL. Don't be shy! Come by! And pick up your Library card today!

Did you know that it wasn't until 1920 that Children's picture books became an industry of their own? Children are natural storytellers with their vivid sense of imagination and creativity; coming up with extraordinary stories. If you know a young person who loves to read and write, always encourage them to try and write their fantastical stories to share

LOCAL HISTORY IN BITE FORM

Maple syrup was a staple long before European settlers arrived. It was heavily used for curing food as preservation for winter months by the Anishinaabe. They would cut a v-shaped pattern into the bark and insert basswood or willow tubes into the tree with birch-bark bowls to catch it. Today maple syrup is very connected to the identity of Canadians and has become “Canadian as maple syrup”.

The traditionally popular month to have weddings was in June. It comes from the Goddess Juno (where June gets the name). The idea of June comes from the Celtic calendar: May Day (1st) young couples began 3 months of courting to be wed in 3 months (August). Couples were impatient and would marry in June—creating the popularity of June weddings.

Bancroft was dry until May 9, 1973; prohibition lasting 70 years. Due to this there were a lot of moonshine distilleries and bootleggers in the area, and the demand was high with all the thirsty log drivers coming in. Maynooth on the other hand let the booze flow, and the Arlington received the first liquor license by the 1950's, and was very popular.

LINDA MACKEY LANG

The majority of Linda's paintings tell the story of climate change and are based on her many expeditions to the polar regions and what she has learned from scientists and her Inuit friends. Linda has taught art workshops for the TDCSB, McMichael Canadian Art Collection, Students on Ice Climate Change expeditions to the Arctic and Antarctica. Linda's painting Follow Your Dreams was presented to the Ontario's Lieutenant Governor, the Hon. James Bartleman in 2006 by the TDCSB.

Come in to view a small collection of her art, and check out Linda's beautiful use of colour and light in her paintings.
